

Personal Assistant -- finance x content x admin

TikTok-built audience + prop-firm research + systematic operations.

This page is a focused single-view for Personal Assistant roles in a financial-advisory / content / business context. The shape of value here is an intersection rarely found together: a Thai young-professional audience built from zero (11.3K TikTok followers), real skin-in-the-game investment experience (passed round one of a six-figure prop-firm challenge), and an operating discipline of running systematic personal infrastructure (dashboard, automation, multi-project tracking that does not drop balls).

CONTENT PRODUCTION -- AUDIENCE BUILT FROM ZERO

TikTok @gunkanokpon (น้องกันวีเอ็มไอ) -- 11.3K followers, 132K total likes. Content theme: Thai cadet at Virginia Military Institute (VMI) sharing journey, mindset, and what scholarship-student-abroad life is actually like. Audience demographic: Thai young people interested in studying abroad, military path, personal development -- the same demographic a finance creator who scales content for next-generation Thai earners is trying to reach. This skill transfers directly: knowing what hook makes a Thai young viewer stop scrolling, what tone keeps them watching, and how to translate a complex idea into a sixty-second story.

- Script writing -- shortform Thai language, hook-first structure
- Story-led framing (vs technical-lecture framing) -- matches a story-teller editorial philosophy
- Audience insight: what young Thais actually consume vs scroll past
- Comfortable in front of camera + in editing software

INVESTMENT + FINANCE -- REAL SKIN IN THE GAME

Independent quantitative trading research: Python backtesting framework (60+ backtests across FX, crypto, metals, indices), walk-forward out-of-sample validation, probabilistic Sharpe + deflated Sharpe gates. Passed round one of a six-figure-account prop-firm challenge -- not paper-trading. Comfortable discussing market structure, position sizing, drawdown discipline, and bias in research methodology with anyone who runs a real book. Reads filings (e.g. the recent SpaceX S-1 with corporate BTC treasury disclosure) and can summarise market events into a brief for a client meeting.

- Reads market commentary, 10-K, and S-1 filings
- Can summarise market events into FA-client-ready brief notes
- Understands FA workflow because the side-project is the same problem space
- Comfortable with Bloomberg-style data tables, Excel, and pandas

OPERATIONS + ADMIN -- SYSTEMS THAT DO NOT DROP BALLS

Personal infrastructure: a dashboard with 11 surfaces, automation scheduled tasks, multi-project tracking, daily SQLite backups, a LINE Official Account bot, all running unattended on a Windows VPS. The point is not the tech stack -- the point is the operating discipline. Tasks tracked end-to-end, follow-ups scheduled in advance, nothing forgotten because there is a system.

- Calendar + follow-up management (client meetings, content deadlines)
- Document organisation + version control
- Coordination between SG and TH timezones
- Light data entry, spreadsheet work, pandas-fluent
- Trip + travel + booking logistics

HONEST CONSTRAINTS

Final-year cadet at the Royal Thai Army Cadet Academy (Chulachomklao) -- returned from VMI to complete commissioning. Availability is part-time only: evenings (after 18:00 BKK), weekends, and approved leave periods. Commissioning starts late 2026 / early 2027 -- availability expands then. Cannot do daytime full-time presence right now. If the role requires daytime full-time, I am not the fit. If it can work with evening + weekend cadence first and expand later, I am ready to commit.

WHY THIS ROLE SPECIFICALLY

I have followed the page for a while. The reason I am applying is not because PA is a generic resume line -- it is because the intersection of finance, content, and business that the page operates in is exactly the intersection I am building my own career around. Working alongside someone whose work I already pay attention to compresses five years of learning into one. I would rather take a part-time role here than a full-time role somewhere I have no interest in.
